presenting . . .

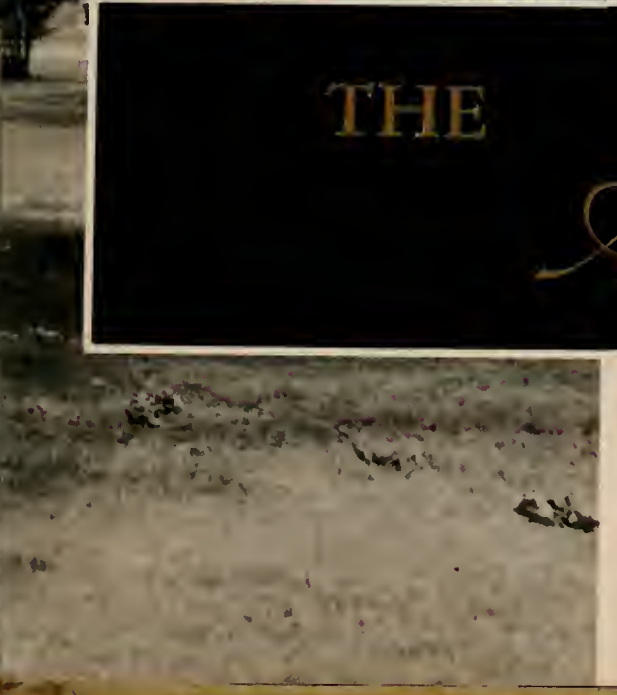

This book is our effort at capturing the rich heritage of Gardner-Webb College . . . the indomitable spirit present in the loyalty of her students, in the hope of those who overlook all barriers in steering her progress, and in the devotion of those who guide her students in the paths of learning . . . and a reflection, many-sided, of our college . . . rooted in the past traditionally, yet living vitally in the present, and eagerly anticipating the future.

celebrating . . . OUR GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Gardner-Webb College was chartered in 1905 as Boiling Springs High School. It was built and supported by the Kings Mountain and Sandy Run Baptist Associations of Cleveland and Rutherford Counties.

The school opened its doors for the admission of students in October, 1907, with Professor J. D. Huggins as principal. In 1912 the Gaston Association joined with the other two in the support of the school, and the Memorial Building was completed in 1925.

The high school became Boiling Springs Junior College in 1928, with J. Blaine Davis as its first president. Succeeding presidents have been Dr. Zeno Wall, the Reverend James L. Jenkins, A. C. Lovelace, Dr. George J. Burnett, the Reverend John R. Cantrell, and the present president, Dr. Philip Lovin Elliott.

The big problem which faced the college until it became Gardner-Webb in 1942 was one of securing adequate support. In 1937, the Memorial Building burned. In the early forties, the school was dragging on, but the people of North Carolina were not ready to see the college die.

Former North Carolina Governor O. Max Gardner got interested in the school, and in the summer of 1942, gave $10,000 for scholarships. During the next five years, Governor Gardner poured thousands and thousands of dollars into the college, which in 1942 was renamed to honor the Gardner and Webb families of Cleveland and Rutherford Counties.

fifty years GROWTH

In July of 1943, Dr. Elliott accepted the presidency of the college, bringing with him a community-service concept of education. Shortly afterward, the Memorial Fund Enlargement Campaign was launched. By the first of 1946, the college was free from debt and the appraised value of all assets was $850,000.

Two years after Governor Gardner's death, a building was dedicated bearing his name—the O. Max Gardner Memorial Student Union. In 1948 Gardner-Webb was accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools and unconditionally admitted into the North Carolina Baptist Family of Colleges. Just one year later, the College Community Health Center opened, and in 1952, the John R. Dover Memorial Library was dedicated. In President Elliott's tenth annual report to the Trustees, he listed the college's total assets at $1,718,288. And since that report a new girls' dormitory, costing approximately $240,000 has been built, and a combination gymnasium-recreation center and a swimming pool to cost about the same amount is under construction in this Golden Anniversary year of Gardner-Webb College.

—These facts have been gleaned from Lengthening Shadows, a history of the college written by F. B. Dedmond, published this year.

PHILIP LOVIN ELLIOTT

To one who has successfully guided our college through perilous years . . . to one who leads by his example . . . to one who is a teacher in the true sense of the word . . . for giving us insight, courage, understanding . . . and for being a friend . . . we humbly and gratefully dedicate the 1957 ANCHOR to our President, Dr. Philip Lovin Elliott.

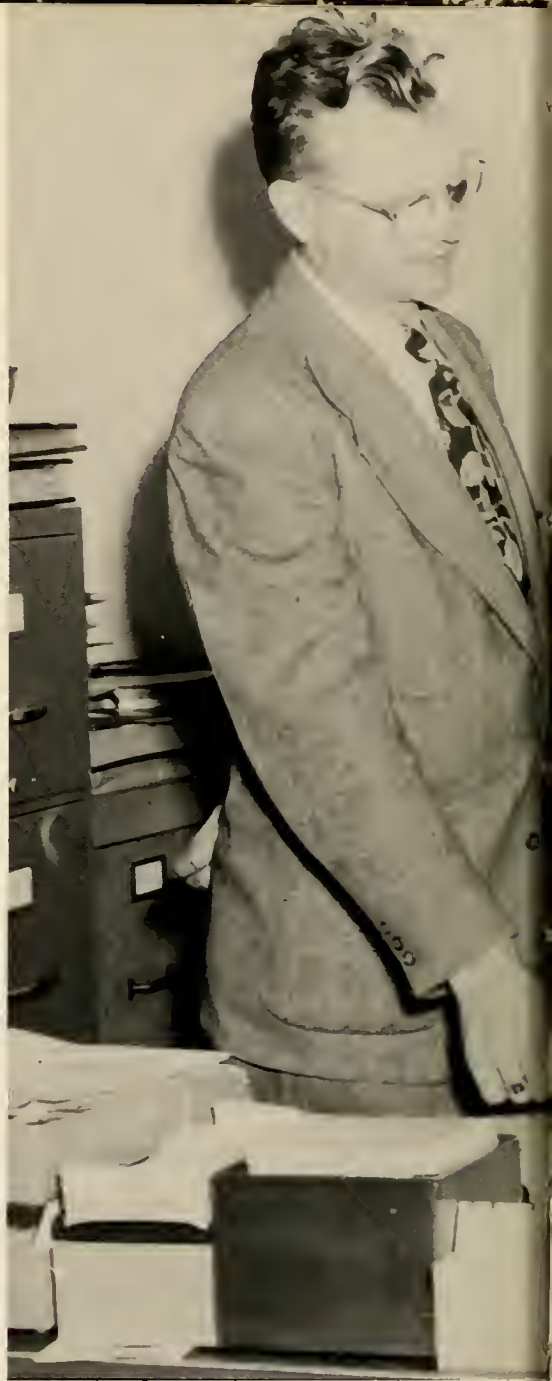

Because of his high ideals and his

Dr. Elliott, who came to the college in 1943, is shown in these pictures in his characteristic hard-working manner. From dictating letters to Miss Davis, to guiding the progress of construction, to overseeing the entire college—he exerts an influence, strongly felt.

THE PRESIDENT'S HOME

The President's Home, a two-story brick structure in a pine grove with spacious lawns, is encircled by Memorial Drive. Faculty homes are located around the Drive. The Woman's Missionary Unions of the Kings Mountain, Sandy Run, and Gaston Associations led in raising money for the home. Mrs. Rush Stroup of Shelby, chairman of the campaign committee, was called the moving spirit in the completion of the building, which was occupied by the Elliots in 1949.

The Gardner-Webb College Community Health Center, officially known as the S. S. Royster Memorial Clinic and Health Center, is a unique institution on the campus. Constructed with money donated by the late Dr. S. S. Royster, and supplemented by gifts from his children, the clinic offers a distinct service to the college and community with its staff of trained nurses and efficient doctors.

TRADITION

HOMECOMING AND

Dr. J. C. Canipe, Founders' Day speaker, takes part in the ground-breaking for the new gymnasium.

On October 27, President P. L. Elliott presided at the Founders' Day program to open officially this traditional homecoming and celebration of the college's founding.

Dr. J. C. Canipe, President of the Baptist State Convention, brought the address, and with Dr. Elliott, took part in the ground-breaking for the new gymnasium.

After an Open House at the new Girls' Dormitory, students and guests gathered at the stadium to watch the Bulldogs win the football game with Lees-McRae and to watch the President crown the Homecoming Queen.

The day ended with a barbecue supper on the Huggins-Curtis lawn. Gardner-Webb had officially begun her golden anniversary year.

President Elliott turns earth for the new building on this milestone day.

Miss Doris Jones and Mrs. Ruth Plaster prepare to meet guests at Open House.

The age-old May Day festival took its origin in England long ago, but its festivities are renewed each spring on the campus of Gardner-Webb in the celebration of this gay occasion. On the first Saturday in May of 1956, the campus was transformed into a spring garden bursting with blossoms and ivy.

THE 1956

The most colorful affair of the year, the pageant heralded the approach of spring with its gay gowns, bright flowers, ceremony and song.

A picturesque sight was the crowning of the Queen of the May and the presentation of her court, chosen by popular vote of the students.

The Christian Volunteer Band is a Christian group interested in working for God in all fields. Providing opportunities for service to the campus and the community, the Band meets weekly to discuss the varied areas of Christian vocations.

The Ministerial Association meets to create constructive and inspirational fellowship while discussing problems of the ministry and Biblical or denominational questions.

The Young Woman's Auxiliary strives to create in its members an interest in the work of the mission fields by a program of mission study and activities. This church related group is affiliated with the Woman's Missionary Union.

EXECUTIVE COUNCIL OF THE BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

... service ...

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

The student who aligns himself with the local church or with any of its organizations automatically becomes a member of the Baptist Student Union. The activities of this organization are directed by the Executive Council, composed of the general officers of the B.S.U. and the presidents of the unit organizations, such as Sunday School, Training Union, Y.W.A. group, Volunteer Band, and Ministerial group. The Greater Council of the B.S.U. includes all those who serve in the units. The local pastor and a faculty adviser serve as counselors. The fellowship within this group is of the highest order and should set a standard of Christian character for the campus.

SPORTSMANSHIP

... on the gridiron ...

The Bulldogs of Gardner-Webb College started the season in a fine way in a thriller on September 15. The team, aided by Reg Turner's fine punting, defeated Ferrum Junior College 20-0. It was almost impossible for the Ferrum team to move against our powerful Bulldog line.

The Bulldog basketball team came through their regular season with more games in the loss column than in the victory column, but they showed a courageous and fighting spirit that is typical of a Gardner-Webb team. The Bulldogs finished conference play with a record of 5 wins and 7 losses. As the ANCHOR goes to press, the Bulldogs are competing in the Western Conference tournament at Spruce Pine.

The first conference game saw the team, hitting with deadly accuracy, defeat their arch-rivals, Mars Hill, 86-65. Defeating this team in the next game 83-76 won them the next conference game. Spartanburg Junior handed the Bulldogs their next victory, 84-74, but Lees McRae's Bobcats defeated them 59-53 for their first conference defeat. The losing streak continued as Brevard won the next conference game 81-74, and Spartanburg won 75-66.

A string of heartbreakers followed: Asheville Biltmore won with the close score of 83-81, North Greenville won in the last seconds of the game with 86-84, Lees McRae won by the score of 79-62. The game with the Furman Freshmen ended in a story book finish with the scoreboard showing a 68-67 loss for the Bulldogs.

1957 Basketball Season

The tables were turned when the Bulldogs took an overtime thriller 75-72. Gaining revenge for earlier losses, the team racked up their highest score of the season as they defeated Asheville Biltmore 90-68. In the last game of the regular season, the team traveled to North Greenville to be defeated 93-62.

The Bulldogs, packed with plenty of potential power, lost only two sophomores this year. Ronald Beane and Ed Peeler play their last games for the team in the conference tournament. Floyd Wright led the Bulldogs with a 14.3 average. Dean Bridge and Buzz Biggerstaff came in close for top honors with the averages of 11 and 10.1 respectively.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The women's teams play in all aspects of sports—from varsity basketball with their own team to intramural volleyball and field sports. Under the guidance of Hester Haynes, the group this year established an enviable record of only one loss in their basketball games with other school teams and industrial leagues.

BASEBALL

These scenes, although representing only a few of the outstanding events and players of last year's baseball, take place on the campus with the coming of spring and end of basketball season. This year Coach Harris has high hopes for a winning team with the promising material shown so far.

CHEERLEADERS

The cheerleaders have given generously of their time and effort in supporting the team and boosting school spirit. Cheering at the games—selling ribbons—raising funds—they lead the students in backing the athletic program.

MONOGRAM CLUB

Composed of those who earn letters in football, basketball, baseball, or cheer-leading, the Monogram Club aims at making the most of good sportsmanship on the campus as well as in competition. To promote school spirit and serve as a fellowship group are other goals of the club.
